Workforce Development

To meet the national need for a skilled green workforce, Southface has expanded its longtime role as a center for hands-on skills training to include career building and job placement for our trainees.

Education

Southface provides in-class and online training for leading technical certifications at our Atlanta headquarters, while our research team connects government and business partners with performance data to bring sustainable innovations.

Technical Services

Southface Institute is a trusted partner for builders, architects and owners who need help navigating the building certification process of most nationally recognized green building programs.

Advocacy

Our policy and advocacy team focuses on issues such as energy equity, clean energy, high-performance building and sustainable development across the Southeast.

Marketplace Solutions

Southface's award-winning programs—EarthCraft Multifamily, EarthCraft Light Commercial, BIT Building and Nonprofit Grants—incorporate sustainable design and performance into a complete system.
